1 Wupatki National Monument
Discover the ancient legacy of the Sinagua people at Wupatki National Monument, where stunning red-rock outcroppings dot the prairie landscape. Visit the impressive Wupatki pueblo, meaning "Tall House" in Hopi, featuring over 100 rooms and a community space. Marvel at the remarkably preserved walls, constructed from local Moenkopi sandstone and mortar. Explore the northernmost ballcourt in North America and uncover the secrets of this ancient civilization. Experience the rich history and breathtaking scenery of this unique archaeological site.

2 Sunset Crater Volcano National Monument
Visit the stunning Sunset Crater Volcano National Monument, a protected area featuring a unique cinder cone within the San Francisco Volcanic Field. Learn about the monument's fascinating history, including its preservation after a public outcry saved it from potential destruction in the 1920s. Take a self-guided loop trail around the base of the volcano and explore the visitor centre to discover more about this natural wonder

3 Museum of Northern Arizona
Visit the Museum of Northern Arizona, a historic institution founded in 1928 by Harold S. Colton and Mary-Russell Ferrell Colton. Explore the region's natural and cultural heritage through research, collections, conservation, and education. The museum features rotating exhibitions on various subjects, showcasing the unique history and beauty of the Colorado Plateau. As an accredited member of the American Alliance of Museums, it's a must-visit destination for anyone interested in the region's rich heritage

4 Walnut Canyon National Monument
Discover the breathtaking beauty of Walnut Canyon, a stunning gorge carved by the Walnut Creek, featuring numerous cliff dwellings and ancient ruins of the Sinagua people. This national monument offers a glimpse into the lives of the ancient inhabitants of the region, with well-preserved ruins and stunning red rock formations. Take a scenic hike down into the canyon or explore the rim trail, and experience the unique natural and cultural heritage of this Arizona wonder

5 Riordan Mansion State Historic Park
Explore the grandeur of Hearst Castle, a historic mansion and state park located on the Central Coast of California. This stunning estate, built by newspaper magnate William Randolph Hearst, features impressive architecture, beautifully landscaped gardens, and an extensive collection of art and antiques. Take a guided tour to experience the opulence and history of this iconic landmark, including its grand rooms, Neptune pools, and stunning views.
